Well, Look Who's Here!

This is the first picture of Babe Ruth in more than 24 hours! Since the big prize fight is on Babe doesn't loom up in the public eye as he used to. However, that hasn't kept him from being several weeks ahead of his last year's home-run record. Here he is with a silver loving cup presented by the amateur ball players of New York. The miniature on top is the Babe, himself. Note the characteristic pose—tossing the bat away as he starts his trot around the bases.

ATTACK OF NERVES MAY LEAVE EITHER FIGHTER HELPLESS

Sporting Authority Gives Examples of Cases Where Men Have Lost.

BY TAD.
NEW YORK, June 30.—Just before the battle, the bravest, biggest and most talented boxer is likely to have a jam of nerves that will set him down as weak as a cat. It's the few days before the big fight that get the fighter. Not only fighters, but actors, lovers or any of us.

How many actors do you know who have flopped at the big moment?

The writer was on the stage with George Cohan one night when he was called upon for an encore and he actually forgot the lines of "Give My Regards to Broadway."

Jeffries' Case.
Was there ever a bigger collapse than the one pulled by Jim Jeffries at Reno? Poor Jeff's nerves went to pieces the day before that fight. He walked the floor instead of sleeping the night before, wondering if daylight would ever come. Jeff was never accused of cowardice in the ring. In fact he was one of the gamest warriors the glove game generally knew, but nevertheless his nerves left him flat.

The night before the big Toledo fust, Jess Willard was awake half the time. Walter Monahan, who slept in the same house with Jess, heard the big fellow go downstairs at 3 a. m. to turn out a small gas jet that was burning. It seemed to bother Jess.

Jack Dempsey himself is no marble statue for nerves. They get him too. The night before he boxed Brennan he went into the bath room to wash his hands. He carefully reached up, turned on an extra light, thinking it was the faucet and then proceeded to wash his hands with air. He yelled to Teddy Hayes, telling him the water was turned off. His mind was on Brennan too much.

Welsh Got Leonard's "Goat."
Fred Welsh handed Benny Leonard the best thrill Benny ever got. The last time they fought, the night Benny was crowned champion, the boys met in the center of the ring for instructions and as the referee was about to send them back to their corners after giving them the low down, Welsh suddenly piped, "Oh, referee, after I knock Leonard down each time am I supposed to walk to my corner?"

Leonard says that remark sent chills up and down his spine. The ordinary dime and dozen slugger would have dropped on the spot.

Watch for some goat-getter Saturday. They're coming sure.

BRUTALLY ASSAULT AND ROB AGED MAN

LAPORTE, Ind., June 30.—Forcing an entrance to the home of John H. Scott, 93 years old resident of Ora, Ind., two young men dragged the nonagenarian about the house by the hair and threatened him with torture unless he revealed the hiding place of several hundred dollars. The old man finally directed his tormentors to the spot. Scott's aged wife was kept under guard while he was being dragged about the place. Clarence White and Lester Mann, 18 year grandson of Scott, were arrested Thursday charged with robbery as a result of the attack.

CHILD DIES WHEN PLAYHOUSE IGNITES

CADILLAC, Mich., June 30.—James Nicklitch died from burns received while extinguishing a fire in a playhouse Wednesday. The lad's clothing was nearly burned from his body. James, with several other lads, had had started a fire in the playhouse and became alarmed when it began to get beyond his control.

PYTHIAN LEAGUE TO MEET AT IRONWOOD

CALUMET, Mich., June 30.—Delegates attending the annual Upper Peninsula Pythian league convention in Laurium awarded the 1922 meeting to Ironwood. Officers were elected as follows: Patrick O'Brien, Iron River, president; Edward Thompson, Sault Ste. Marie, vice-president; George Dunstan, Iron River, secretary and treasurer.

Upwards of 500 Pythians were guests of Laurium lodge, No. 202, during the two-day convention. The 800 degree team was awarded, for the second time, the league trophy for superiority in degree team work. Among the enjoyable features of the convention was a pilgrimage to Eagle Harbor, where the old school house, in which Justice H. Rathbone wrote the ritual of the order while a teacher there, still stands.
